George A. Mundt Post, No. 81 of the American Legion is sponsoring a class in First Aid, which begins Friday evening, Oct. 17.

This will be welcome news to many in and around Bethel, as this school of instruction will be open to all citizens, male or female, who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity. It is hoped that as many as can do so will take advantage of this course.

Classes will be held once a week for 10 weeks at the American Legion home.

Everyone should have a working knowledge of First Aid. Housewives, workers, business men, Boy and Girl Scouts, firemen, police, in fact everyone needs a working knowledge of what to do when an emergency arises and a doctor's services are not immediately available.

A competent First Aid instructor will be in charge of this course, and as many as can from Bethel and vicinity are urged to be present and enroll at the first meeting. Commander John Compass, Legionnaires Van Den Kerckhoven, McAllister, or any others will gladly give any further information if needed.

The fire department was called at 10 o'clock that morning to extinguish the fire which was spreading into the woods. The cause is unknown as yet. There was no insurance.

GOULD PLAYS AT FRYEBURG SATURDAY

On Saturday the Gould Academy football squad will travel to Fryeburg where they will engage their traditional opening game rival. Last year Gould swamped the Fryeburg team 37-14 but this is another year which revert back to the many tight games before that time. These two teams have had many close matches in the past.

Line Coach Myers plans to pick his starting lineup from the following men: Whip Abbe, Vernon Bennett, Virgil Adams, Earl Littlefield, Arnold Bennett, John Emerson, Nick Amato, Charles St. Thomas, Norman Torrey, James Reid, Robert Patten, Clendon McAllister, Jack Haines, and Stanley Davis.

Head Coach Fortier will choose four from the following list to start carrying the ball on Saturday: Bud Ireland, "Ossie" Morton, Wilfred Coolidge, Lewis Littlehale, "Billy" Robertson, Cleveland Lovejoy, and David Hawkins.

OXFORD COUNTY FIRES

Trapped in a flaming barn at East Stoneham, Lee Andrews, five-year-old son of Harry Andrews, was rescued by Mrs. Raymond McAllister and Mrs. Mabel Barker, neighbors, who were attracted to the scene by the smoke.

A loss of about $2,000 was caused by fire which swept the farm building of Julius Paikanen in Tuell Town Tuesday. A tractor's backfire was blamed for the blaze.

The barn and stable of Chester Ladd at Rumford Point were burned Sunday forenoon with a loss of $2,500, partially covered by insurance. Included in the loss were a valuable pair of gray work horses, 15 tons of hay, and considerable equipment. The Rumford Point and Rumford fire departments saved the house.

GOULD FOOTBALL HAS BUT TWO HOME GAMES

Bethel fans, who year after year follow the games of the Gould eleven, will have to do some traveling, as this year there will be only two home games with four being played away.

The 1941 schedule is as follows: Sat., Sept. 27 at Fryeburg Academy; Sat., Oct. 4 Gorham, N. H., here; Sat., Oct. 11 at Norway.

Thurs., Oct. 16 So. Paris at Bethel (This will be the annual "Parents' Day" and also the Dedication of the new Field House.) Sat., Oct. 25 at Bucksport; Sat., Nov. 1 at Newport, Vt.

The team has been practicing for the past two weeks with one of the smallest squads in years. There are only about 30 men participating this year. The added attraction of the new Physical Education program seems to have diverted many of the younger boys who usually show up for football.

Graduation left gaping holes in the Gould lineup for this year. The loss of such men as "Bud" Clough, "Blackie" Cummings, Phil Cummings, Erik Brown, Reginald King, Robert Perry, and Sid Howe, all regulars, means a loss that cannot be replaced.

The only regulars from last year are Bud Ireland in the backfield and Virgil Adams, Littlefield, and "Whip" Abbe in the line. "Ossie" Morton, another backfield man saw some service last year on the varsity. These men will form the nucleus for the team of 1941.

White Mountain National Forest
FOREST DEFENSE IS NATIONAL DEFENSE: Never was a slogan more pertinent. Fires are now ravaging sections of New England and everywhere difficulty is being experienced in securing manpower for combating the blazes.

In this North Country the forests are the key to our prosperity. All business is directly or indirectly dependent upon forest industry. Forest lands denuded by fire are for generations, non-productive. Our industries to be perpetually maintained require every acre of forest land producing maximum yields of timber. Every citizen must therefore do his part to prevent forest fires and if they start assist in the suppression job.

Nearly all fires are preventable. In fact lightning which causes only seven percent of our forest fires is the only cause beyond the power of man to prevent. There are 153,000 forest fires in the United States yearly.

CARELESSNESS, smokers and campers, accounts for 54,000.

MALICIOUSNESS, incendiaries, accounts for 42,000.

NEGLIGENCE brush burning, etc., accounts for 30,000.

WIND-CAUSED, accounts for 27,000.

LIGHTNING, causes 21,000.

The National Forest Fire Organization is built around local key men who are designated as National Forest Wardens. These men are trained in fire suppression technique and are the local agent of the Forest Service in forest fire suppression. They are empowered to buy and use equipment for work on National Forest fires. Each warden maintains a list of men who he can depend upon for his crew. If you want to become a crew member for your local National Forest Warden one of the following men lives in your vicinity.

THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE

Summarizing Information on the Important Developments of the Week Made Available by Official Sources.

The President asked Congress for nearly six billion dollars more for lend-lease materials. Lend-Lease Administrator Stettinius was given power to approve aid requests; this with other changes is expected to cut from 30 to 15 days the period between receipt of a request and actual authorization for assistance.

Mr. Roosevelt told Congress that of the original seven billion appropriated six months ago, all but $720,000,000 is "now moving through the successive stages of allocation, obligation, production and delivery." He said $246,400,000 in materials and $78,170,000 in services has been given the anti-Axis nations.

The Defense Supplies Corporation, and RFC subsidiary, contracted with Amtorg Trading Corporation, a U. S. corporation owned by Russia, for the purchase of $100,000,000 of manganese, chromite, asbestos and platinum. The supplies agency arranged to pay Amtorg half of the amount in advance so Russia could buy war materials here. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau similarly advanced the Soviet Union $10,000,000 on future gold deliveries to the United States.

Navy Protecting Ships

Navy Secretary Knox told the American Legion convention the Navy is using all methods, including convoys, to protect vessels of all flags carrying aid to Britain. He said the Navy has orders to capture or destroy, by every means at their disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface raiders in the waters between the U. S. and Iceland.

Neutrality Act Interpretation

The State Department announced that as a result of an interpretation by the Attorney General that the "United Kingdom" is only England, Wales, Scotland and North Ireland, American ships may henceforth carry war supplies and passengers to parts of the British Empire not designated by the President to be in combat areas. Under this interpretation American ships are still barred from going to France, Poland, India, the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa.

Navy Expansion Progress

The Navy reported it has contracted for 2,831 ships, including 232 fighting vessels every ship authorized under the seven billion dollar program to create "the greatest array of fighting ships under one flag the world has ever seen." 32 battleships, 18 aircraft carriers, 91 cruisers, 364 destroyers and 136 submarines, a total fighting fleet of 691 ships.

Ships

The Navy announced development of a 1,900-ton cargo vessel, the Sea Otter, so "light in weight, simple in construction, relatively cheap in both original cost and upkeep... (it) will challenge the submarine and provide a new bridge to the free nations of the world." The vessel is so small it can be built in inland yards in two months. It will carry an anti-aircraft battery, be manned by only a few men, make 12 knots, and be capable of a 5,000 mile voyage.

The Maritime Commission took over ships of the Alcoa line after striking sailors refused to arbitrate their dispute. The ships will be operated by the Commission on their regular runs. The Commission announced that on September 1, 1941, ships had been completed of a total of 788 being built for all purposes under the Commission's auspices. The announcement said 14 ships will be launched September 27 in joint ceremonies on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Production

OPM Director Knudsen, speaking on the radio, said "I would like to see every American decide to give an extra hour or an extra half hour or even an extra 15 minutes to his job from now on... If we get the work we'll get the guns..." The War Department reported all 10 machine-gun plants required for present estimated needs are now in operation and machine-gun production has increased 460 percent since August, 1940.

Army Morale

Army Chief of Staff Marshall told American Legion national convention at Milwaukee there is a difference between "free discussion" and "destructive measures to promote discontent and destroy confidence in the Army." He said, "I submit... the impossibility of developing an efficient army if decisions which are purely military in nature are continuously subjected to investigation, cross examination, debate, ridicule and public discussion by pressure groups, or by individuals with only a superficial knowledge of military matters, or of the actual facts in the particular case... Don't tear up what you are striving so hard to build up... this country must have the best army in the world."

Defense Housing Priorities

OPM Priorities Director Nelson announced several hundred building materials such as steel, iron, nails, bolts, electrical fixtures, ranges, etc. have been placed on a "defense housing critical list." Priorities on them will be given to builders constructing 200,000 privately financed housing units in 275 defense areas of the U. S. and territories. Mr. Nelson said the plan will apply to financed homes selling for up to $10,000 or renting for not more than $50 a month. First preference will be given to homes under construction on September 1 and for remodeling and rehabilitation work and then for new homes for rent and new homes to be sold.

Oil, Gasoline

Defense Oil Coordinator Ickes said gasoline restrictions will not be lifted. Mr. Ickes said in the face of a 12 1/2% drop in gasoline stocks compared to this time last year, there is a demand of 11 percent more than last year. Deliveries to East coast filling stations were 11.4 percent lower last week than the week before, and will have to be cut more, he said, unless the pipeline is built from Texas to New Jersey.

30-Day Mine Truce

Defense Mediation Board Chairman Davis announced an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America to reopen strike-bound "captive" mines for a period of 30 days beginning September 22. The agreement requires a three day written notice by either side before operations can be halted. Negotiations on the union shop demand which led to the strike will be resumed September 24. The U. S. Conciliation Service announced settlement of 37 labor disputes.

Priority Unemployment

OPM Associate Director Hillman announced employers in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., have agreed to hire 1,335 power-machine operators and 200 assistants from among the 3,500 workers forced out of employment in those two areas by the silk shortage. Mr. Hillman also announced a broad "model" program of State and local cooperation with OPM to alleviate unemployment in the silk, automobile and rubber industries in New Jersey.

Prices

A. C. Hoffman of the OPA Food Section, speaking in Philadelphia, said farm prices have risen more than 49 percent since the outbreak of the war and stand now at 97% of parity in terms of things farmers buy. Labor Secretary Perkins said living costs at August 15 this year were 7.5 percent more than two years ago.

Nurses

Surgeon General Magee announced more than 10,000 nurses are needed for the Army Nurse Corps, including 4,000 Reserve nurses to care for men still to be inducted this year and an equal number to replace the estimated 40% who will be discharged at the end of their one year enlistments. Information can be obtained from the War Department or the Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

Taxation

Congress passed and sent to the White House the $3,533,400,000 tax bill for 1941, increasing the number of tax payers by an estimated 2,275,000 persons. The bill increases corporation surtaxes and lowers present individual exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single taxpayers.

"Small business enterprises in the United States are hanging on the ropes.

"Small businesses employing fewer than 200 workers each compose 99 per cent of all business houses in this country and handle 85 per cent of the nation's commerce. The loss of these concerns would be a deadly blow to our prosperity and our productive capacity.

"Today small business is deprived of a fair share of contracts, is almost strangled by priorities and is stifled by regulations and taxes.

"For instance, some time ago the Army asked for bids on serge for uniforms, and 78 mills submitted bids. The next invitations said 'no bids for less than 25,000 yards,' and only 36 bids were received. The third call specified not less than 100,000 yards, and that restricted the bidding to only the largest firms. Of course, the Army wants as little inspection as possible, and consequently desires to do business with a minimum number of firms.
Unquestionably, time can thus be saved, but if we destroy the small businesses of the country by this method it will be a disastrous price to pay for saving a little time."— Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr.

It is no precedent whatever for the proposition of unlimited personal authority in the president alone to engage us in present wars or to commit us to future wars.
That can be done only with congressional concurrence. Woodrow Wilson found that out.—Hugh Johnson.

In a free country there is much clamor, with little suffering; in a despotic state there is little complaint, with much grievance.—Car-

They Didn't Build Them Like That in '18

IN the First World War, airplanes were flimsy structures of wood and canvas, which often caught fire and rarely survived a crash. Today their bodies are tough, light aluminum, welded or riveted to a skeleton of strong, hollow steel tubes, and they really can take it. This R.A.F.
Hurricane fighter had most of its tail shot away in a raid over Occupied France—yet its pilot brought it back safely to England, 38 miles across the rough channel. The plane will be back in the air before long, a tribute to the genius and workmanship that produced it and a terror to the numerically superior but out-fought and out-gamed German Luftwaffe.

Gildersleeve
Stages into Star

Radio is one entertainment medium that gives every actor an even break as proved this season with the debut of the show titled "The Great Gildersleeve," heard Sundays at 8:30 p. m. EST, NBC-Red, starring Hal Peary in the title role. For the past few years, actor Peary has been a stooge on the Fibber McGee and Molly program, building such a tremendous following for his Gildersleeve character that the McGee's sponsor was happy to see Peary slide into his own starring spot for another season.

When the seventh son of a family of eight marries the twelfth daughter of a family of thirteen, you may expect something unusual to come of the union. That's what happened when Jim Jordan married Marian Driscoll such in Peoria about 25 years ago and what name of their union is Fibber McGee and Molly, heard Tuesdays at 9:30 p. m. EST, NBC-Red, for Jim, you see, is Fibber and Marian is Molly, and this is their seventh year as the McGee's.

The broadcasting business brings more old acquaintances together than family picnics or class reunions, according to Ransom Sherman, star of the Hap Hazard series heard Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m. EST, NBC-Red network. When Sherman went to Hollywood to take over the job of starring in Hap Hazard, the first person he met was Van Fleming, slated to be producer on the show. The two men didn't need any introduction however. Fleming produced a show called "You Name It" in San Francisco six years ago. One of its chief actors was a comedian named Ransom Sherman.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING THE HOUSE

A good camera position, sunshine striking at an angle, and a tree for "framing"—all help make a pleasing home picture. Good shots of home are easy with any camera.

HOW many good pictures of your home do you have in the snapshot collection? And are they really good ones? You know, it's just as easy to take a good picture as any other kind—and much more satisfying.

Most folks make two mistakes in picturing a house. First they choose the wrong viewpoint; second, they tilt the camera upward. Maybe you don't make these mistakes—and if that's the case, your pictures of home are probably better than average. Good camera position, and a properly leveled camera, are "half the picture."

A straight front view of a house is seldom the best view. Usually a diagonal view—the way you first see the house as you come along the street—is preferable. It's less formal, and more natural. This is the view chosen for the house in the picture above—obviously more attractive than a "head-on" shot.

The level camera is important because, if you tilt the camera up, the house appears to tilt in your picture. This can be avoided by shooting from a greater distance, which enables you to get all the house in without tilting the lens upward. Or, you can shoot from a higher position, which helps too.

A sunny day is best for house pictures. Pick an hour when the sun strikes at an angle, as this shows up the details—the lines of the weatherboarding, the window outlines, and other features.

You do not need to show all of the house in every picture. An attractive doorway or window bay, a gabled end—these alone make highly effective shots. "Framing" also lends attractiveness. Notice in the picture above how the large tree and overhanging branches have been used to make a pleasant natural "frame."

Try these ideas on your house. They're simple—but they yield the best shots—and your home should by all means be presented attractively in the album.

OXFORD COUNTY UNITED PARISH NEWS

Here is something for all of us to underline: Beginning on Sunday we will be using Eastern Standard Time. Therefore the service on Sunday morning will be at Waterford at 10:30 A. M., E. S. T. Remember, please, that this is the only service in the Parish for Sunday. We have been enjoying the chance given us this month to see our friends from other parts of the Parish. We hope we will see you all, Sunday morning. Then, remember, also, that the last of our services together will be at East Stoneham the following Sunday when we will join with our brethren in Christ in the World Wide Communion.

On Sunday evening the Pilgrim Fellowship will meet at the Waterford Parsonage.

The Superintendent of the Waterford Sunday School is calling a meeting for next Tuesday evening to make plans for the School for the coming year.

Thursday evening will be the only time when we can get a Circle Supper next week. You will find that at Albany. The Center Lovell Circle is having no supper next Friday, but two weeks from Friday, that is Oct. 10th, there will be a Rummage Sale and Harvest Supper at the Center Vestry.

We were glad to see Deane Hodge a few minutes last Friday evening. He spent the night at the North Waterford Parsonage on the way from Winslow, Maine, to Exeter, N. H. He was looking as though he was enjoying a good vacation. He is expecting to be here in the Parish for the Fair, and it will not be long thereafter before we are seeing him more often. It will be good to have him with us again after these vacation weeks; and we are looking forward to seeing the Bicket family again, and will be eager to hear of their journey into the West.

Just remember when you come to the World's Fair that the North Waterford Circle will be most happy to serve you a good dinner and supper. Not only will you find a good meal, but you will also be helping in a good cause. We will be looking for you! That Vestry will be a good place to meet your friends.

Services were held for Mrs. Sylvia Chadburne Kibbourne last Saturday morning at the Waterford Church—a place of worship that she had always loved. To her three sons and a large circle of loved ones we extend our sympathy.

ON SUNDAY MORN, IF HEADACHES COME, - OR ANY OTHER DAY, - HOP OUT OF BED AND EASE YOUR HEAD THE ALKA-SELTZER WAY.

THE ANALGESIC (painreliever) in Alka-Seltzer acts quickly because it is fully dissolved and ready to go to work as soon as you swallow it. Its painrelieving action is made more positive by alkaline buffers which protect it and speed up its action. Because Alka-Seltzer contains an analgesic and alkaline buffer salts, it is used by millions for the relief not only of headache, but of Cold Symptoms, Acid Indigestion, Muscular Fatigue, "Morning After" and Muscular Pains. At your drug store in handy packages and by the glass.

Be Wise - Try Alka-Seltzer

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Do the retail stores receive any fee or percentage for the sale of Stamps?

A. No. The retail stores are offering their facilities as a patriotic service, just as banks, savings and loan associations, and others are giving their help in the sale of Defense Bonds.

Q. How can I form the thrift habit necessary for me to buy many Defense Bonds now, to help the Government?

A. The easiest way is to instruct your employer or banker to hold back a small fraction of your salary or other income. Even 25 cents a day and a dollar on your birthday will mount up in one year to $37.50, the purchase price of a $50 Defense Bond. Bigger savings buy bigger bonds.

Note: To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps now are on sale at retail stores.
